Dear Geraldine,

Thank you for organising an outstanding drum workshop for our young people last week, it was thoroughly enjoyable and I'm sure it will last in their memories for a long time.

The workshop met many of the outcomes which our project 'Positive Destinations' is working towards; facing new experiences, learning to respect and thing about others, improving self confidence, working on social skills but most importantly, having fun!

Nansady struck an excellent balance between drumming technique, cultural and historical context and hard work. This engaged the learners for the full five hours, which was no mean feat considering their challenging nature and the group showed clear progression during the session.

Thank you again I wish you all the best for the future.

Regards

Jay Ibrahim
